DETAILED ACTION

Restriction

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted:

I. Claims 1 – 24 are drawn to a method of enriching mesenchymal precursor cells.

II. Claims 25 –51 are drawn to an enriched population of mesenchymal precursor cells and a composition comprising said cell.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Invention of Group I was found to have no special technical feature that defined the contribution over the prior art of US Patent 6,087,113 or US 6,645,727

US Patent '113 teaches a method of enriching mesenchymal precursor cells comprising the step of enriching for cells based on at least two surface markers (see entire document, Abstract in particular).

US Patent '727 teaches a method of enriching mesenchymal precursor cells comprising the step of enriching for cells based on at least two surface markers (see entire document, Abstract in particular).

Since Applicant's Inventions do not contribute a special technical feature when viewed over the prior art they do not have a single general inventive concept and so lack unity of invention.

Species Election

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

A). If Group I is elected, applicant is required to elect a specific method for of enriching mesenchymal precursor cells, wherein a specific surface markers is selected from the group recited in claim 5.

These species are distinct because a specific method for of enriching mesenchymal precursor cells, wherein a specific surface markers is selected from the group recited in claim 5 is differ with respect to a specific surface markers. Thus each specific method employing a specific surface marker represents patentably distinct subject matter and would require different searches in the scientific literature.

B). If Group II is elected, applicant is required to elect a specific enriched population of mesenchymal precursor cells, wherein a cell carry a specific surface markers selected from the group recited in claim 26.

These species are distinct because their structure, physicochemical properties and mode of action are different. The examination of species would require different searches in the scientific literature.

4. Applicant is advised that a response to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 C.F.R. § 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. M.P.E.P. § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 103 of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1644

5. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

A telephone call was made to Wilburn Chesser on 12/23/04 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michail Belyavskiy whose telephone number is 571/ 272-0840. The examiner can normally be reached Monday through Friday from 9:00 AM to 5:30 PM. A message may be left on the examiner's voice mail service. If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Christina Chan can be reached on 571/ 272-0841.
